1. INTRODUCTION

All paper proposals submitted for this program will be selected through a doubleblind peer review process and should follow a clear outline, have been proofread and written in clear language. The following summarizes the proposal structure.

PLEASE DO NOT INCLUDE AUTHOR NAMES AND AFFILIATIONS IN PROPOSAL SUBMISSION.

The abstract should provide a brief summary identifying the purpose, problem, methods, results, and conclusion of the submitted work and omit any citing references. The introduction should cover a broader overview and framing of the research/case study in a greater context of the opportunity space. Define the problem statement, hypotheses, or research questions. A literature review or market analysis should identify an opportunity space as well as build on the shoulders of an existing body of work and/or research or theory. Applied methods and processes should describe the roadmap of the research and should be written in a format that guides the reader as well as makes the process replicable. The goal of this section is to explain the study to a broader audience. Results of research/case study should be discussed to provide an overview of the analysis of the process outcomes. The discussions of the results should be treated as the synthesis and interpretation of the research/case study outcomes. The conclusion of the paper should elicit the contribution and uniqueness of the outcomes and the greater application thereof, in addition it could include an outlook for next steps to be taken. References should be formatted in APA 7 style (please see examples).

Full paper proposals, in addition to full workshop proposals, will go through an additional round of judging evaluation.
